Pradeep Lakshan

Computer Science Undergraduate at University of Ruhuna | AI & Data Science Enthusiast
Bibile, Uva Province, Sri Lanka

Summary

I am an undergraduate student at the University of Ruhuna, pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science. I have previously worked as an Intern at People's Bank – Bibile Branch, where I gained valuable experience in customer service, administrative tasks, data handling, and professional workplace communication. Alongside my academic journey, I have a strong interest in Artificial Intelligence and Data Science, and I am passionate about exploring emerging technologies and applying them to solve real-world problems. I am a motivated and dedicated individual who is always eager to learn new skills, improve my knowledge, and grow as a professional in the field of technology.
